A Yizkor Message

Yizkor has grown into one of the most powerful moments in Jewish ritual/prayer life. It isn't surprising. When we gather for holidays or joyous occasions, we are especially aware of the empty seats at our holiday tables and the empty chairs at our Simchas. The Rabbis were aware of this so they gave us a moment together to acknowledge our loss and shed that tear and treasure that memory. We do it together and that also comforts us and encourages us. It's easier to cry together than to be the only one crying. When we are the only ones crying, we feel that we are burdening others but when we cry together, we feel we are strengthening each other. Not being physically together this year will take away from Yizkor – we know and understand that. But knowing that we are all – so to speak – on the same page at the same moment in that cloud is comforting. Truth to be told we don't really understand what that cloud is or where it is but here is what we know. This year that cloud will be so full of tears that it will surely break out in rain. What does rain do – it gives life – it causes everything to grow. Our tears do help us grow and give us direction and purpose in our lives. I think when people leave the Yizkor service they in fact 'feel better'. Memory has bitter and sweet in it and acknowledging that is life enhancing. There is something else about Yizkor in a year of Covid – a year of isolation – a year of fear and real losses of friends and relatives. More than almost any other year any of us have ever experienced do we realize how vulnerable we are. More than any other year we can remember we have that thought in our mind – what if this is my last Yom Kippur. More than any other year we feel vulnerable. Isn't that the message of Yom Kippur? We wear white because that is how we are dressed when laid to our final rest. We fast because it is imitating dying and reminds us that days for all are numbered. We say Yizkor because we know that one day our own chair will be empty and we wonder who will say Yizkor for us. Yom Kippur has always been a message about making every year, month week and day count. Covid has only brought that message to the forefront. Let us resolve then on this Yizkor to remember how vital our community is to us and make sure it comes out the other end of this trying period strong and intact. Let us remember that we must be careful and vigilant so that our chair is not the empty one next year. We owe that to ourselves and to our families. Let us remember that we want to lead our lives in such a way that when it comes time for our loved ones to say Yizkor for us that they will have tears that enhance their lives and move them forward knowing they were loved and that our lives were models for them to emulate and learn from. Eventually we will meet in real space and not in the cloud – eventually we will see each other's tears at Yizkor rather than imagine them. Until then we will be strong – the loved ones we remember today will give us strength and most of all we will do them proud by being hopeful, careful and determined in the months to come. In this way we will truly turn their memories into a blessing.

Prelude to Yizkor

Let us praise the Lord in this time of remembrance,
For the lives we have shared, for the memories we cherish.

*Let us praise God even in times of sorrow,
As we remember God's many kindnesses to us.*

God's love accompanies us throughout life's journey,
So that even in death we are not forsaken.

*Mercifully God redeems us from the grave;
Calling our souls to life everlasting.*

As parents have compassion upon their children,
So the Lord has compassion upon those who revere God.

*For God knows how frail and fragile we are,
How vulnerable we are to disease and death.*

As blades of grass and flowers in the field
Tarry only briefly before they wither away,

*So do the days of our lives pass swiftly by;
They are too quickly gone, never to return.*

But the Lord's steadfast love endures forever;
Those who trust in the Lord need not feel forsaken.

*They know their Healer will bind up their wounds,
And will wipe away the tears from their faces.*

This faith they bequeath to their children's children,
A precious legacy for all generations.

MEMORIES WHICH ILLUMINE OUR LIVES

There are stars whose light reaches the earth only after they themselves have disintegrated. And there are individuals whose memory lights the world after they have passed from it. These lights shine even in the darkest night and illumine our path. . . .

YIZKOR

יזכור

ADONAI, what are human beings
that You take account of them, mortals that You care for them?
Humans are as a breath, their days like a passing shadow.
In the morning they flourish anew, in the evening they shriveled and die.
Teach us to count each day,
that we may acquire a heart of wisdom.

ה', מַה־אָדָם וְהַתְדַעְהוּ,
בְּן־אָנוּשׁ וְהַתְחַשְׁבֶּהוּ.
אָדָם לְהֵבֵל דָּמָה,
יָמָיו כְּצֵל עוֹבֵר.
בְּבֹקֶר יִצְיֵץ וְחָלָה,
לְעֶרֶב יִמּוֹלֵל וַיָּבֵשׁ.
לְמִנּוֹת יָמֵינוּ כֵּן הוֹדַע
וְנִבְיֵא לְבָב חֻקְמָה.

On this solemn day we each make judgments about the quality of our life.

We re-examine our deeds and relationships with our community and with others.

We express our yearnings for a new year, a new beginning, a year during which we commit ourselves to work toward bringing health and peace to all.

We long for a year when individually and communally we shall strive to live in a way that is more reflective of the ideals that we cherish.

Now, in the midst of looking at our life and assessing its quality, we pause to reflect and to remember, and to dedicate ourselves anew.

God is always before me, at my right hand, lest I fall.
Therefore I am glad, made happy, though I know that my flesh will lie in the ground forever.

שְׁוִיתֵי ה' לְנֶגְדֵי תְמִידָה,
כִּי מִיְמִינֵי בַל־אֲמוּט.
לְכֵן שְׂמֵחַ לְבִי וַיִּגַּל
כְּבוֹדֵי, אֶף בְּשָׂרֵי יִשְׁכֵּן
לְבַטָּח.

The deaths of those we now remember left holes in our lives.
But we are grateful for the gift of their lives and we are strengthened by the blessings that they left us and the precious memories that comfort and sustain us as we recall them this day.

WE RECALL

Some of us recall parents who watched over us, nursed us, guided us, and sacrificed for us.

Some of us lovingly call to mind a wife, husband, or partner with whom we were truly united—in our hopes and our pains, in our failures and our achievements, in our joys and our sorrows.

Some of us remember brothers and sisters, who grew up together with us, sharing in the play of childhood, in the youthful adventure of discovering life's possibilities, bound to us by a heritage of family tradition and by years of togetherness and love.

Some of us call to mind children, entrusted to us too briefly, to whom we gave our loving care and from whom we received a trust that enriched our lives.

So many of us recall beloved relatives and friends whose affection and devotion enhanced our lives, and whose visible presence will never return to cheer, encourage, or support us.

Though they are gone, we are grateful for the blessings they brought to our lives. We are sustained and comforted by the thought that their presence in our lives remains an enduring blessing that we can bequeath to others.

We can show our devotion to them by our devotion to those ideas that they cherished.

O God of love, make us worthy of the love we have received by teaching us to love You with all our heart and with all our soul and with all our might, and to spread the light of Your divine love on all whose lives touch ours.

Give us strength to live faithfully, for we are cheered by our confidence that You will not permit our lives to be wasted, but will bring all our worthy strivings to live on, even as we may not see their fulfillment.

We lovingly recall the members of our congregation who no longer dwell on this earth. They have a special place in our hearts. We pray this day that all who have sustained the loss of loved ones be granted comfort and strength.

Exalted, compassionate God, comfort the bereaved families of this congregation. Help us to perpetuate everything that was worthy in the lives of those no longer with us, whom we remember this day. May their memory endure as a blessing. And let us say: Amen.

We remember them

At the rising of the sun and at its going down,
we remember them.

*At the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter,
we remember them.*

At the opening of the buds and in the rebirth of spring,
we remember them.

*At the shining of the sun and in the warmth of summer,
we remember them.*

At the rustling of the leaves and in the beauty of autumn,
we remember them.

*At the beginning of the year and at its end,
we remember them.*

As long as we live, they too will live;
for they are now a part of us,
as we remember them.

*When we are weary and in need of strength,
we remember them.*

When we are lost and sick at heart,
we remember them.

*When we have joy we crave to share,
we remember them.*

When we have decisions that are difficult to make,
we remember them.

*When we have achievements that are based on theirs,
we remember them.*

As long as we live, they too will live;
for they are now a part of us,
as we remember them.

A Yizkor Meditation in Memory of a Parent Who Was Hurtful

Dear God,

You know my heart. Indeed, You know me better than I know myself, so I turn to You before I rise for Kaddish.

My emotions swirl as I say this prayer. The parent I remember was not kind to me. His/her death left me with a legacy of unhealed wounds, of anger and of dismay that a parent could hurt a child as I was hurt.

I do not want to pretend to a love or to a grief that I do not feel, but I do want to do what is right as a Jew and as a child.

Help me, O God, to subdue my bitter emotions that do me no good, and to find that place in myself where happier memories may lie hidden, and where grief for all that could have been, all that should have been, may be calmed by forgiveness, or at least soothed by the passage of time.

I pray that You, who raise up slaves to freedom, will liberate me from the oppression of my hurt and anger, and that You will lead me from this desert to Your holy place.

-Robert Saks

THE GIFT OF MEMORY

We thank You, O God of life and love,
For the resurrecting gift of memory
Which endows Your children, fashioned in Your image,
With the Godlike sovereign power
To give immortality through love.
Praised be You, O God,
Who enables Your children to remember.

What death cannot take from us

Death has cast its dark shadow over this home,
And it has left us all deeply bereft.

*A voice has been stilled, a heart has been stopped,
Laughter has departed, joy has fled.*

Gone are the warmth and the glow of a loved one's presence;
The chain of love has lost a vital link.

*Death has taken a life which was precious;
It has brought pain, loneliness, and sorrow.*

And yet there is so much which death cannot touch,
So much over which it has no dominion.

*Death cannot rob us of our past:
The years, the dreams, the experiences which we shared.*

Death cannot take from us the love we knew;
It is woven into the tapestry of our lives.

*The lessons we were taught we shall continue to cherish;
We shall cling to the wisdom which lives on.*

What we have had, we shall always possess;
What we have known, we shall always hold dear.

*Death cannot take from us our abiding trust,
That God will give us strength to endure what we must.*

Death cannot take from us our sustaining hope—
That darkness will yield to light, and hurt give way to healing.

*Death cannot take from us the comforting faith,
That with God every soul is precious; none is ever lost.*

Thus, even in sorrow, we thank the Lord our God,
For our memories and our hopes, for our trust and our faith.

*For these, we believe, need never be lost;
These, and so much more, death cannot take from us.*

Yizkor reflections

SHALL I CRY OUT IN ANGER?

Shall I cry out in anger, O God,
Because Your gifts are mine but for a while?

*Shall I forget the blessing of health
The moment it gives way to illness and pain?*

Shall I be ungrateful for the moments of laughter,
The seasons of joy, the days of gladness and festivity?

*When a fate beyond my understanding takes from me
Friends and kin whom I have cherished, and leaves me
Bereft of shining presences that have lit my way
Through years of companionship and affection,*

When tears cloud my eyes and darken the world,
And my heart is heavy within me,
Shall I blot from the mind the love
I have known and in which I have rejoiced?

*Shall I grieve for a youth that has gone
Once my hair is gray and my shoulders bent,
And forget days of vibrancy and power?*

Shall I, in days of adversity, fail to recall
The hours of joy and glory You once granted me?

*Shall the time of darkness put out forever
The glow of the light in which I once walked?*

Give me the vision, O God, to see and feel
That imbedded deep in each of Your gifts
Is a core of eternity, undiminished and bright,
An eternity that survives the dread hours of affliction and misery.

*Those I have loved, though now beyond my view,
Have given form and quality to my life,
And they live on, unfailingly feeding
My heart and mind and imagination.*

They have led me into the wide universe
I continue to inhabit, and their presence
Is more vital to me than their absence.

*What You give, O Lord, You do not take away,
And bounties once granted
Shed their radiance evermore.*

Within me Your love and vision,
Now woven deep into the texture of my being,
Live and will be mine forever.

A RELIGION OF LIFE

Judaism is a religion of life, which makes no cult out of death, which seeks no private salvation from the grave, which accepts with confidence and trust both the miracle of birth and the mystery of death.

Our faith does not close its eyes to tragedy and does not deny that we human beings shall never possess the everlastingness of stone, the silent enduring quality of the mountain peak; but we have other gifts, conscious minds, aspiring hearts, far-visionsed souls.

Our faith tells us that God has given to each human being the ability to paint a portrait large or small, beautiful or ugly, radiant or blooming; and our faith summons us to become portrait painters of soul-landscapes, worthy to be hung in any art gallery of the spirit.

Judaism proclaims that God has arranged our journey so that in years brief or many we can find love, joy, and the fruits of fulfillment (partial and relative though they be), and that when our day is finished, we should accept its final note with the same calm trust that we greet the skylark's song at sunrise.

Joshua Loth Liebman

A RESPONSE AND A WITNESS

The facts of life and death are neutral. It is we, by our responses, who give meaning to suffering and death.

Illnesses, accidents, human tragedies do kill people. But they do not necessarily kill life or destroy faith.

If the death and suffering of someone we love makes us bitter, jealous, hostile to religion, and incapable of happiness, then it is we who turn the person who has died into one of the "devil's martyrs." If the death of someone close to us brings us to explore the limits of our capacities for strength, love, and cheerfulness, if it leads us to discover sources of consolation which we never knew before, then we make our departed into a witness for the affirmation of life rather than its rejection.

There is one thing which we can still do for those whom we have loved and lost. We could not keep them alive. Perhaps we could not even lessen their pain significantly. But now, after their death, we can let them be witnesses for God and for life.

The dead depend on us for their redemption and their immortality.

Kindling the yahrzeit light

The yahrzeit candle should burn from sunset to sunset, on the anniversary of the day of death according to the Hebrew calendar, starting on the evening preceding the day. A selection from Psalms or other passages found elsewhere in this book may be read. There is no special prayer or benediction to be recited. It is appropriate to meditate briefly, silently or aloud. Some suggested reflections follow.

 I now recall my dear _____ who has gone to his/her eternal home. May his/her soul be bound up in the bond of life, in peace. Amen.

 I kindle this light in loving memory of _____, recalling words from the Book of Proverbs: "The soul of man is the light of the Lord."

 Zekher tzadik livrakhah. The memory of the righteous is a blessing. May my life continue to embrace the life and deeds, the words and thoughts of _____ who has gone to his/her eternal home. May he/she rest in peace. Amen.

 O merciful God, I turn to You in prayer on the yahrzeit of the death of my dear _____. Be with me as I stand in remembrance and in loving recollection. As I light this candle in his/her memory, I put my trust in You.

 Renew my strength, O Lord. I am grateful for the years of the life of _____. Help me to understand how my life has been formed and shaped by what he/she was and by what he/she did. Help me to make part of my life a living monument of holiness to his/her memory. May he/she rest in peace. Amen.

Richard Arthur Lowy

Beloved Husband, Father and Grandfather

He is Gone

You can shed tears that he is gone or you can smile because he has lived.

You can close your eyes and pray that he'll come back

Or you can open your eyes and see all he's left.

Your heart can be empty because you can't see him

Or you can be full of the love you shared.

You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday

Or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.

You can remember him and only that he's gone

Or you can cherish his memory and let it live on.

You can cry and close your mind,

Be empty and turn your back

Or you can do what he'd want:

Smile, open your eyes, love and go on.

A Message from our President

Yizkor, a sacred time when we gather four times a year to remember our loved ones. We gather as a community to remember the people who were responsible for shaping our lives. Your presence speaks volumes as we dedicate this most personal time to collectively mourn loved ones - parents, grandparents, brothers, sisters, children - who sacrificed their lives for the preservation of Judaism and the survival of the State of Israel.

This year, as we unite virtually to recite Yizkor as part of our High Holiday Virtual Experience, our traditional Book of Remembrance will once again be created through a labor of love by our own Marcia Frantz. In a time like this, the lesson of “we live forever through what we give” is one that is especially important to continue teaching our children and their children. This is the lesson of the survival of the Jewish people, one that we all work daily to ensure the future, not only of our community, but also of our fellow Jews in Israel and around the world. Through your generous act of giving, you help support our Beth Torah, while honoring so many of those who are no longer with us.

On behalf of the entire congregation we want to show our gratitude to our dear friend, Marcia and thank each of you for your support. May the year 5781 bring you peace with the knowledge that your loved ones are remembered. All members will be receiving a hard copy of the Book of Remembrance prior to Yom Kippur.

Our hope is that this year be a good one all around, a year of good health and well-being for your family, relationships, and all aspects of life. May your prayers be answered and may you be inscribed/ sealed in the Book of Life.

L'shanah tovah tikatevu v'taihatemu.

With love,

Jill Koch

In Tribute to Joan and Ronald Levy, Of Blessed Memory

The children and grandchildren of Joan and Ronald Levy dedicate this BOOK OF REMEMBRANCE to their blessed memory.

The Levy family has been associated with our Congregation for over thirty years and we have had the opportunity to celebrate many happy occasions together. Joan Levy left her impact upon the community because of her compassion, sincerity and her reputation as a very devoted wife, mother and grandmother. She also amassed a host of dedicated friends because she was, indeed, a loyal and loving friend to so many. Ron Levy earned the respect and love of his family and friends through his commitment, zeal for life and dedication to family and community.

The community joins the Levy family in mourning their passing. We feel the void of their physical absence. The faith and courage exhibited throughout their lifetime continues to inspire us.

THE BOOK OF REMEMBRANCE, in a great sense, gives JOAN AND RON a continuity and immortality.

May their souls be bound up in the bonds of everlasting life and may their memories be a source of blessing to their family and our community.
