A Yizkor Message

Tearing a piece of clothing or a ribbon is a well known and time honored tradition of mourning of our people. Already in the Bible we read that Jacob tore his garment when he believed that his son Joseph had died and David tears his clothes when he hears of the death of King Saul. For thousands of years after these events Jews have continued the practice of 'keriah' – tearing a garment or ribbon. The symbolism is quite clear: it represents our broken and 'torn' hearts and it also identifies to others that you are in mourning.

It is important to note that we put a tear into the garment, but we do not tear a piece off – the torn part of the garment always remains attached to the whole ribbon. As Rabbi David Stern points out; "The tear is real; there is no gainsaying the rupture we feel in our lives when someone we love has died. But the 'woven together' is real, too – their memory, their example, their influence and their love remain threaded through the fabric of who we are." Interestingly, the Talmud talks about reweaving of the mourner's garment which was very important to poor people who had very few garments to begin with. The Talmud goes so far as to prescribe which kind of stitches can be used. There is one stitch that is forbidden and that is the stitch of the skilled tailors of Alexandria, which was a stitch that makes the tear disappear altogether. In other words, the Talmud forbids us from sewing up the fabric so completely as to make it look as if there was never a tear there.

We come to Yizkor both torn and mended at the same time from our losses. We know that the tear can never be completely stitched. We are never completely whole again but we are healed. We have been repaired while still remembering our loved ones and while still inviting them to live in our hearts and in our minds. To deny the loss by using the perfect stitch to cover it up is not realistic and to deny that we can heal and be repaired after such heavy losses is also not real.

The late Elie Wiesel wrote of his first trip back to his home village of Sighet where almost no Jews were left: "I met a Jew, one of the rare survivors, and we walked through the cemetery of Sighet. "To be a Jew," I asked, "What does it mean to you? Does it mean turning your heart into a cemetery?" "No", my companion said. "The heart of a man is a sanctuary... To be a Jew is to fill the sanctuary with light, without betraying the cemetery."

At this Yizkor service we are here to find strength in what remains behind. We find strength in their legacy. We are here to look at the proverbial torn garment that is not mended but is still very visible as a small scar on our souls. But it is a scar that leaves us also with wonderful memories that sustain us and strengthen us as we go forward with life here on God's earth. May the memories of our loved ones continue to be a blessing for generations to come. Amen.

Shana Tova Oo'metukah - a happy and healthy New Year to you and your families.

Prelude to Yizkor

Let us praise the Lord in this time of remembrance,
For the lives we have shared, for the memories we cherish.

*Let us praise God even in times of sorrow,
As we remember God's many kindnesses to us.*

God's love accompanies us throughout life's journey,
So that even in death we are not forsaken.

*Mercifully God redeems us from the grave;
Calling our souls to life everlasting.*

As parents have compassion upon their children,
So the Lord has compassion upon those who revere God.

*For God knows how frail and fragile we are,
How vulnerable we are to disease and death.*

As blades of grass and flowers in the field
Tarry only briefly before they wither away,

*So do the days of our lives pass swiftly by;
They are too quickly gone, never to return.*

But the Lord's steadfast love endures forever;
Those who trust in the Lord need not feel forsaken.

*They know their Healer will bind up their wounds,
And will wipe away the tears from their faces.*

This faith they bequeath to their children's children,
A precious legacy for all generations.

MEMORIES WHICH ILLUMINE OUR LIVES

There are stars whose light reaches the earth only after they themselves have disintegrated. And there are individuals whose memory lights the world after they have passed from it. These lights shine even in the darkest night and illumine our path. . . .

YIZKOR

יזכור

ADONAI, what are human beings
that You take account of them, mortals that You care for them?

Humans are as a breath, their days like a passing shadow.

In the morning they flourish anew, in the evening they shrivel and die.

Teach us to count each day,
that we may acquire a heart of wisdom.

ה', מָה־אָדָם וְהַתְדַעְהוּ,
בְּן־אָנוּשׁ וְהַתְחַשְׁבֶהוּ.

אָדָם לְהֵבֵל דָּמָה,
יָמָיו כְּצֵל עוֹבֵר.

בְּבֹקֶר יִצְיֵץ וְחָלָף,
לְעֶרֶב יִמּוֹלֵל וַיָּבֵשׁ.

לְמִנּוֹת יָמֵינוּ כֵּן הוֹדַע
וְנִבְיֵא לְבָב חֻקְמָה.

On this solemn day we each make judgments about the quality of our life.

We re-examine our deeds and relationships with our community and with others.

We express our yearnings for a new year, a new beginning, a year during which we commit ourselves to work toward bringing health and peace to all.

We long for a year when individually and communally we shall strive to live in a way that is more reflective of the ideals that we cherish.

Now, in the midst of looking at our life and assessing its quality, we pause to reflect and to remember, and to dedicate ourselves anew.

God is always before me, at my right hand, lest I fall.

Therefore I am glad, made happy, though I know that my flesh will lie in the ground forever.

שְׂוִיתִי ה' לְנֶגְדֵי תְמִיד,
כִּי מִיְמִינִי בַל־אָמוּט.

לְכֵן שְׂמַח לְבִי וַיִּגַּל
כְּבוֹדִי, אַף בְּשָׂרִי יִשְׁכַּן
לְבַטָּח.

The deaths of those we now remember left holes in our lives.
But we are grateful for the gift of their lives and we are strengthened by the blessings that they left us and the precious memories that comfort and sustain us as we recall them this day.

WE RECALL

Some of us recall parents who watched over us, nursed us, guided us, and sacrificed for us.

Some of us lovingly call to mind a wife, husband, or partner with whom we were truly united—in our hopes and our pains, in our failures and our achievements, in our joys and our sorrows.

Some of us remember brothers and sisters, who grew up together with us, sharing in the play of childhood, in the youthful adventure of discovering life's possibilities, bound to us by a heritage of family tradition and by years of togetherness and love.

Some of us call to mind children, entrusted to us too briefly, to whom we gave our loving care and from whom we received a trust that enriched our lives.

So many of us recall beloved relatives and friends whose affection and devotion enhanced our lives, and whose visible presence will never return to cheer, encourage, or support us.

Though they are gone, we are grateful for the blessings they brought to our lives. We are sustained and comforted by the thought that their presence in our lives remains an enduring blessing that we can bequeath to others.

We can show our devotion to them by our devotion to those ideas that they cherished.

O God of love, make us worthy of the love we have received by teaching us to love You with all our heart and with all our soul and with all our might, and to spread the light of Your divine love on all whose lives touch ours.

Give us strength to live faithfully, for we are cheered by our confidence that You will not permit our lives to be wasted, but will bring all our worthy strivings to live on, even as we may not see their fulfillment.

We lovingly recall the members of our congregation who no longer dwell on this earth. They have a special place in our hearts. We pray this day that all who have sustained the loss of loved ones be granted comfort and strength.

Exalted, compassionate God, comfort the bereaved families of this congregation. Help us to perpetuate everything that was worthy in the lives of those no longer with us, whom we remember this day. May their memory endure as a blessing. And let us say: Amen.

We remember them

At the rising of the sun and at its going down,
we remember them.

*At the blowing of the wind and in the chill of winter,
we remember them.*

At the opening of the buds and in the rebirth of spring,
we remember them.

*At the shining of the sun and in the warmth of summer,
we remember them.*

At the rustling of the leaves and in the beauty of autumn,
we remember them.

*At the beginning of the year and at its end,
we remember them.*

As long as we live, they too will live;
for they are now a part of us,
as we remember them.

*When we are weary and in need of strength,
we remember them.*

When we are lost and sick at heart,
we remember them.

*When we have joy we crave to share,
we remember them.*

When we have decisions that are difficult to make,
we remember them.

*When we have achievements that are based on theirs,
we remember them.*

As long as we live, they too will live;
for they are now a part of us,
as we remember them.

A Yizkor Meditation in Memory of a Parent Who Was Hurtful

Dear God,

You know my heart. Indeed, You know me better than I know myself, so I turn to You before I rise for Kaddish.

My emotions swirl as I say this prayer. The parent I remember was not kind to me. His/her death left me with a legacy of unhealed wounds, of anger and of dismay that a parent could hurt a child as I was hurt.

I do not want to pretend to a love or to a grief that I do not feel, but I do want to do what is right as a Jew and as a child.

Help me, O God, to subdue my bitter emotions that do me no good, and to find that place in myself where happier memories may lie hidden, and where grief for all that could have been, all that should have been, may be calmed by forgiveness, or at least soothed by the passage of time.

I pray that You, who raise up slaves to freedom, will liberate me from the oppression of my hurt and anger, and that You will lead me from this desert to Your holy place.

-Robert Saks

THE GIFT OF MEMORY

We thank You, O God of life and love,
For the resurrecting gift of memory
Which endows Your children, fashioned in Your image,
With the Godlike sovereign power
To give immortality through love.
Praised be You, O God,
Who enables Your children to remember.

What death cannot take from us

Death has cast its dark shadow over this home,
And it has left us all deeply bereft.

*A voice has been stilled, a heart has been stopped,
Laughter has departed, joy has fled.*

Gone are the warmth and the glow of a loved one's presence;
The chain of love has lost a vital link.

*Death has taken a life which was precious;
It has brought pain, loneliness, and sorrow.*

And yet there is so much which death cannot touch,
So much over which it has no dominion.

*Death cannot rob us of our past:
The years, the dreams, the experiences which we shared.*

Death cannot take from us the love we knew;
It is woven into the tapestry of our lives.

*The lessons we were taught we shall continue to cherish;
We shall cling to the wisdom which lives on.*

What we have had, we shall always possess;
What we have known, we shall always hold dear.

*Death cannot take from us our abiding trust,
That God will give us strength to endure what we must.*

Death cannot take from us our sustaining hope—
That darkness will yield to light, and hurt give way to healing.

*Death cannot take from us the comforting faith,
That with God every soul is precious; none is ever lost.*

Thus, even in sorrow, we thank the Lord our God,
For our memories and our hopes, for our trust and our faith.

*For these, we believe, need never be lost;
These, and so much more, death cannot take from us.*

Yizkor reflections

SHALL I CRY OUT IN ANGER?

Shall I cry out in anger, O God,
Because Your gifts are mine but for a while?

*Shall I forget the blessing of health
The moment it gives way to illness and pain?*

Shall I be ungrateful for the moments of laughter,
The seasons of joy, the days of gladness and festivity?

*When a fate beyond my understanding takes from me
Friends and kin whom I have cherished, and leaves me
Bereft of shining presences that have lit my way
Through years of companionship and affection,*

When tears cloud my eyes and darken the world,
And my heart is heavy within me,
Shall I blot from the mind the love
I have known and in which I have rejoiced?

*Shall I grieve for a youth that has gone
Once my hair is gray and my shoulders bent,
And forget days of vibrancy and power?*

Shall I, in days of adversity, fail to recall
The hours of joy and glory You once granted me?

*Shall the time of darkness put out forever
The glow of the light in which I once walked?*

Give me the vision, O God, to see and feel
That imbedded deep in each of Your gifts
Is a core of eternity, undiminished and bright,
An eternity that survives the dread hours of affliction and misery.

*Those I have loved, though now beyond my view,
Have given form and quality to my life,
And they live on, unfailingly feeding
My heart and mind and imagination.*

They have led me into the wide universe
I continue to inhabit, and their presence
Is more vital to me than their absence.

*What You give, O Lord, You do not take away,
And bounties once granted
Shed their radiance evermore.*

Within me Your love and vision,
Now woven deep into the texture of my being,
Live and will be mine forever.

A RELIGION OF LIFE

Judaism is a religion of life, which makes no cult out of death, which seeks no private salvation from the grave, which accepts with confidence and trust both the miracle of birth and the mystery of death.

Our faith does not close its eyes to tragedy and does not deny that we human beings shall never possess the everlastingness of stone, the silent enduring quality of the mountain peak; but we have other gifts, conscious minds, aspiring hearts, far-visioned souls.

Our faith tells us that God has given to each human being the ability to paint a portrait large or small, beautiful or ugly, radiant or blooming; and our faith summons us to become portrait painters of soul-landscapes, worthy to be hung in any art gallery of the spirit.

Judaism proclaims that God has arranged our journey so that in years brief or many we can find love, joy, and the fruits of fulfillment (partial and relative though they be), and that when our day is finished, we should accept its final note with the same calm trust that we greet the skylark's song at sunrise.

Joshua Loth Liebman

A RESPONSE AND A WITNESS

The facts of life and death are neutral. It is we, by our responses, who give meaning to suffering and death.

Illnesses, accidents, human tragedies do kill people. But they do not necessarily kill life or destroy faith.

If the death and suffering of someone we love makes us bitter, jealous, hostile to religion, and incapable of happiness, then it is we who turn the person who has died into one of the "devil's martyrs." If the death of someone close to us brings us to explore the limits of our capacities for strength, love, and cheerfulness, if it leads us to discover sources of consolation which we never knew before, then we make our departed into a witness for the affirmation of life rather than its rejection.

There is one thing which we can still do for those whom we have loved and lost. We could not keep them alive. Perhaps we could not even lessen their pain significantly. But now, after their death, we can let them be witnesses for God and for life.

The dead depend on us for their redemption and their immortality.

Harold Kushner (adapted)

Kindling the yahrzeit light

The yahrzeit candle should burn from sunset to sunset, on the anniversary of the day of death according to the Hebrew calendar, starting on the evening preceding the day. A selection from Psalms or other passages found elsewhere in this book may be read. There is no special prayer or benediction to be recited. It is appropriate to meditate briefly, silently or aloud. Some suggested reflections follow.

 I now recall my dear _____ who has gone to his/her eternal home. May his/her soul be bound up in the bond of life, in peace. Amen.

 I kindle this light in loving memory of _____, recalling words from the Book of Proverbs: "The soul of man is the light of the Lord."

 Zekher tzadik livrakhah. The memory of the righteous is a blessing. May my life continue to embrace the life and deeds, the words and thoughts of _____ who has gone to his/her eternal home. May he/she rest in peace. Amen.

 O merciful God, I turn to You in prayer on the yahrzeit of the death of my dear _____. Be with me as I stand in remembrance and in loving recollection. As I light this candle in his/her memory, I put my trust in You.

 Renew my strength, O Lord. I am grateful for the years of the life of _____. Help me to understand how my life has been formed and shaped by what he/she was and by what he/she did. Help me to make part of my life a living monument of holiness to his/her memory. May he/she rest in peace. Amen.

Beloved Husband, Father and Grandfather

He is Gone

You can shed tears that he is gone or you can smile because he has lived.

You can close your eyes and pray that he'll come back

Or you can open your eyes and see all he's left.

Your heart can be empty because you can't see him

Or you can be full of the love you shared.

You can turn your back on tomorrow and live yesterday

Or you can be happy for tomorrow because of yesterday.

You can remember him and only that he's gone

Or you can cherish his memory and let it live on.

You can cry and close your mind,

Be empty and turn your back

Or you can do what he'd want:

Smile, open your eyes, love and go on.

BARBARA SAKS

Remembering my sweetheart who for the last 43 years of our 69-year marriage was part of me, as though we were one person.

In 1980 we heard Bill Withers song "Just the Two of Us" we can make it if we try; just the two of us...you and I. And we essentially gave up the race to the top for a life of simplicity and total love for each other. We didn't "build castles in the sky" but Hashem knew it was time to bring Barbara to Him. I am sure the blessed Lord knew I could no longer be Barbara's sole caregiver. But part of me is missing and I will deal with that until we meet again.

We also remember, love and miss

Barbara's mother & father,
Hortense & Irving M. Hauptman; &

A Message from our President

Yizkor is a sacred time when we gather four times a year to remember our loved ones. We gather as a community to remember the people who were responsible for shaping our lives. Your presence speaks volumes as we dedicate this most personal time to collectively mourn those who mean so much to us - parents, spouses, grandparents, brothers, sisters, children, and friends - who sacrificed their lives for the preservation of Judaism and the survival of the State of Israel. We also remember our friends and congregants we have lost along the way, as well as victims of the Holocaust.

This year, as we unite to recite Yizkor and gather together as a community, our traditional Book of Remembrance has once again been created through a labor of love by Marcia Frantz. The lesson of “we live forever through what we give” is one that is especially critical to continue teaching our children and their children this important lesson. This is the lesson of the survival of the Jewish people, one that we all work on daily to ensure the future of not only our community, but also of our fellow Jews in Israel and around the world. Through your generous act of giving, you help support our Beth Torah, while honoring so many who are no longer with us.

On behalf of the entire congregation, we thank Marcia, along with Jill Koch and Orly Avraham, for your hard work in creating this Book of Remembrance. We are incredibly appreciative of your continuous devotion to this endeavor.

May the year 5784 bring you peace with the knowledge that your loved ones are remembered. Our hope is that this is a wonderful year full of good health and well-being for your family and friends. May your prayers be answered and may you be inscribed/sealed in the Book of Life.

L'shanah tovah tikatevu v'taihetemu.

Best Wishes,

Michael Cotzen

The children and grandchildren of Joan and Ronald Levy dedicate this BOOK OF REMEMBRANCE to their blessed memory.

The Levy family has been associated with our Congregation for over thirty years and we have had the opportunity to celebrate many happy occasions together. Joan Levy left her impact upon the community because of her compassion, sincerity and her reputation as a very devoted wife, mother and grandmother. She also amassed a host of dedicated friends because she was, indeed, a loyal and loving friend to so many. Ron Levy earned the respect and love of his family and friends through his commitment, zeal for life and dedication to family and community.

The community joins the Levy family in mourning their passing. We feel the void of their physical absence. The faith and courage exhibited throughout their lifetime continues to inspire us.

THE BOOK OF REMEMBRANCE, in a great sense, gives JOAN AND RON a continuity and immortality.

May their souls be bound up in the bonds of everlasting life and may their memories be a source of blessing to their family and our community.
